Northwest Golf Teacher Directory

Inside Golf's annual list of golf instructors in your area

Be sure to save this section for reference if you plan on taking golf lessons this year

Are you tired of spraying the ball all over the fairways? or chili dipping your chip shots? It's time to get serious about getting a better game. Are you trying to fix your game from magazine articles or listening to your buddies? It's time to take some lessons from a qualified and trained golf professional. Make this year the year you fix your game, be it driving, chipping or putting. Don't start 2016 with the same old problems.

On the following pages we have compiled a list of the best golf teachers in the Northwest to help find the right teacher for you.

Golf Teachers in the Greater Portland Area

FUNdaMental Golf & Learning Center, Oregon City

Shanda Imlay – PGA Head Professional

Shanda Imlay, co-owner and PGA Head Professional was recently awarded the OGA Golf Professional of the Year for 2014. She has well over 30 years of experience in teaching all levels of players. These include: PGA and LPGA professionals, Collegiate players, coaching the Girl's Junior America Cup, along with coaching the Cleveland Girl's Golf Team for the last three years.

I believe that everyone, regardless of age, or physical ability, can learn to play golf. I have developed a "three element" program that is easy to understand and effective. I help the player identify his or her golf skills to play their best based on physical abilities. The instruction is Fine-tuned to the person, rather than a teaching methodology.

My primary goal is to bring FUN into playing the game of golf. I use the latest best visual teaching aid, V1 Swing Analysis Software. Swing Smart Golf Analyzer is new for 2016. More than mechanics FUNdaMental Golf helps the golfer develop a CORE golf swing through timing, tempo, rhythm and balance. If you are interested in learning to play the game, improving your golf skills or bringing FUN back into your game, check out my web page fundamentalgolf.net or call 503.632.3986. I look forward to talking with you, Shanda Imlay, PGA

GolfTEC, Nyberg-Wood, Tualatin

Christopher M. Woods – PGA Member, Director of Instruction, Center Manager

Chris started his career in golf at the Golf Academy of America where he received his Associates Degree in Golf Business Management in 1999. After working at golf courses in the Southern California area, Chris quickly moved up to Head Golf Professional and General Manager at Talega Golf Club in San Clemente, CA. Since moving back to the Portland area and joining the GolfTEC team in 2010 he has become a Certified Club Fitter and taught thousands of lessons. Chris has a passion for coaching and enjoys helping his students reach their goals. Whether you are a low handicap player and just looking to make one or two adjustments in your swing or someone that has never played the game before, Chris is ready to help you improve your game. For more information about fees and instruction, please visit www.golftec.com/portland.

Brad A. Hunter– PGA Member, Certified Personal Coach

I started playing golf at the age of 14 and soon fell in love with the challenges that golf could offer over any other sport. Golf is such a mental game you must be able to let yourself get out of your own way. After playing in high school for four years I decided to go play golf at the collegiate level. I played two years at Columbia Basin College in Pasco WA, receiving all region awards both years. After school I decided to turn professional, and took my talents to the San Diego Golf Academy to learn more about the business of golf. After 8 years being an Assistant Golf Professional at numerous clubs I soon realized my true passion is teaching the game. I joined the GolfTEC team in March of 2013 and have over 5000 lessons taught with this company. I thoroughly enjoy watching my clients break their career low rounds and personal goals. I am still an avid player and compete in about 25 events a year. If you want to learn how to score the rock I am the instructor for you!!!

Anthony Wik – Certified Personal Coach, PGA Apprentice

Anthony has been playing golf since he was 6 years old. He began his professional career right after high school where he was the Assistant Director for the First Tee of Portland. Anthony decided to go back to college in South Carolina where he played for 3 years, was named the team captain for two years and made the All Conference team for all three years. After finishing his college playing career, Anthony moved back to Portland where he regained his professional status and began working at Pumpkin Ridge Golf Club. He worked at Pumpkin Ridge for the last 4 years as the First Assistant Golf Professional where he taught hundreds of lessons to all types of players. Anthony joined the GolfTEC team in December of 2015 and is very excited about the future with the company. Anthony has a great passion for the game and is ready to help you learn, whether you are new to the game or a seasoned vet!

Eric Hinrichs – PGA Class A Professional

Eric Hinrichs is a familiar face after spending the majority of his youth playing golf with his father, an accomplished amateur golfer, at Riverbend. After setting almost every golf record at Thomas Jefferson High School and winning his share of regional events, Eric decided to become a golf professional at an early age. For 8 years, Eric has helped run Riverbend's 18-hole golf course and he has also helped coordinate Riverbend's junior golf camps, clinics and tournaments. Eric has ascertained a thorough understanding of the golf swing, becoming one of the top left-handed players in the section and has assisted many high school and college players throughout their early careers. As a result of his abilities, Josh Immordino secured Eric as his caddie when he qualified as an alternate for the 2008 U.S. Open Championship. Eric's disposition and willingness make him a perfect fit for all your instructional needs.

Josh Immordino – PGA Class A Member Professional

Josh Immordino has been a standout golfer in the Pacific Northwest ever since his years as a junior. After setting almost every golf record at Kentwood High School, Josh continued his golfing prowess at Western Washington University where he finished as a 3-Time All American. Josh captured the Seattle Amateur Title, representing Washington in the USGA State Team Championship, qualifying for the prestigious Hudson Cup Matches and in 2006 capturing the exclusive Washington State Open Title. He turned professional shortly after his win and followed that up with a win at the 2007 Oregon State Open, a qualification into the 2008 U.S. Open Championship as an alternate and a 2009 win at the Pacific Northwest PGA Pro-Assistants Championship. He brings a great understanding of the game of golf to players of every age and ability, especially junior golfers. His patience, demeanor and personal experience make him a perfect fit for educating our local youth.

Justin Harvey – PGA Apprentice Teaching Professional

Justin has been a familiar face at Riverbend for years. He started golfing in Jr. High School and has always had a passion for sports, especially the game of golf. Once out of high school he decided to take his passion for the game to the next level and attended Skagit Valley CC as a member of the golf team. Justin is now in his 6th season at Riverbend and over that time he has amassed multiple wins in the Riverbend Men's Club as well as other local events. He has studied under all of Riverbend's PGA instructors and has worked as an assistant coach and consultant to the Seattle Christian High School Team. Justin's easy going and friendly nature allows him to work well with players of all ability levels but he also takes his students development and progress seriously. Justin has also embraced current technology by using "Swing A'tem" computer software for swing analysis. Justin's goal as your instructor is to reduce strokes and improve overall play consistency. He has a passion to help new and experienced golfers improve and grow the game.

Riverbend Complex has an 18-hole championship course, a 9-hole executive course, driving range and merchandise center

Brian Flugstad Golf Academy

Brian Flugstad – Director of Instruction

Liam Kendregan – Master Instructor (The Golf Club at Echo Falls)

Brian has spent over 25 years in the game of golf. His experiences as a top Northwest Amateur, All American Collegiate player and Playing Professional, including 6 years on the Canadian Tour, have helped him develop his teaching philosophy; "There is not a universal way to swing the golf club." Recently, Brian and Liam (recently semi-retired touring professional) have teamed up to help golfers from beginners to tour players, achieve their goals and dreams. Teaching golf is truly a passion they both share!

Regardless of if you have been playing your entire life or never picked up a club, Brian and Liam will help you learn to love the game of golf as they do! Both locations are open to all students so pick a location that is most convenient for you and they will help you with your game.

Twin Rivers Golf Course, Fall City

Erin Szekely – Class A member of the LPGA Teaching and Club Professional Division. Erin has been a Class A member of the LPGA Teaching and Club Professional Division since 1996. Erin has given thousands of lessons over the past nineteen years.

Erin's philosophy about the golf swing and the game is to keep it simple: that the swing is like any other physical move. Moves that we make every day....We make it hard by breaking it down into small parts instead of staying with the whole and making the swing be a response to what we do with the club. She follows the principles of PGA and Hall of Fame member Manuel de la Torre and is featured in his dvd "Understanding the Golf Swing".

Erin has an instructional dvd called 'Golfing with Erin.'

Alderbrook Golf & Yacht Club, Union

John Cassidy – Teaching Professional at Alderbrook Golf & Yacht Club. Played golf at The University of Nevada 2004-2006.

Competed with full status on the PGA Tour Canada 2008-2011.

2014 Washington Open Champion and PNW Assistant Player of the Year.

Competed in the National Assistants Championship in 2014 finishing 27th and in 2015 finishing 17th.

2001- present, studied and learned from the instructors at the Butch Harmon School of Golf.

I have been very fortunate to have spent time with and around some of the world's best players and instructors. I teach my students to understand THEIR golf swing and I help them find what it takes to play their best golf. My knowledge on the swing and shot mechanics is very in-depth, but my approach to helping students learn is surprisingly simple. My job is to make sure every lesson ends with my students having a better feel and understanding of how to accomplish their goals in this game. I truly enjoy helping people play a very hard game better.

Patrick Vaughan – Teaching Professional
425-452-7250 or www.bellevuepgc.com
Patrick has been a teacher for over 40 years. After graduating from the University of Washington with a Masters degree in Physical Education, he taught at the High School level and coached various varsity sports including the boys' and girls' golf teams. He became a golf teaching professional in 1994 and has worked as an Instructor at Bellevue Golf Course for the past 12 years, working primarily with the beginning to intermediate level player. His teaching methods include drills that help develop the golf swing. He has great communication skills and the belief that golf lessons should be fun and result in a person learning to love the game.

Cheryl Mahan – Teaching Professional
425-452-7250 or www.bellevuepgc.com
Cheryl promotes learning the game of golf through solid fundamentals, building on each individual's natural athletic skills. Similar to the teaching methods taught by PGA Golf Professional Steve Wozeniak, she will show you how to reach your potential with positive actions rather than tired restrictions like "keep your head down" and "left arm straight." She encourages her students to find aspects of the game that they can succeed at to help them master new techniques and confidently apply them to their golf game.

Samantha MacDonald – Teaching Professional

Dave Boivin – PGA Professional
206-363-4747
I am originally from Canada. I love teaching, coaching and helping people improve, it's so rewarding to me.
I pride myself in keeping it simple and fun so as not to overwhelm the student. Often times simple adjustments can have a big impact on your game. If you are having problems with your swing or your short game, lets improve it. Short game is the key to better scoring.
Let's make 2016 the year you improve your game. Let's hit more fairways and chip it closer to the hole. It's a fun game and made more enjoyable when we play better. :)

Val Patrick – PGA Professional
206-363-4747
Val has been teaching in the Seattle area for the past 10 years and has successfully helped golfers of all abilities improve different areas of their game. She believes that keeping the learning experience fun and unique to each golfer is what makes getting better at golf enjoyable. She particularly enjoys helping people improve their short game skills. It is when our short game gets better that we are able to see our scores go lower.

Twin Lakes Golf & C C, Federal Way

Kris Runge – PGA Head Professional
Teaching philosophy: Anybody who has played golf knows how difficult and complicated the game can be at times. This idea of complexity takes on a whole new meaning when taking lessons. I attempt to keep the lesson simple by focusing on set-up and the impact that has on swing plan and swing path and how these areas effect the flight of the golf ball. See how simple that sounds?
If this has peeked your curiosity, for $45, we can talk about this in more detail for 45 minutes.
I can be contacted at Twin Lakes pro shop: 253-838-0345.

Nate Smith – Assistant Pro
Nate is entering his fourth year at Twin Lakes Golf and Country Club in Federal Way. He is just beginning his teaching career and comes with a youthful enthusiasm about working with people of all ages and all abilities. He enjoys working with juniors and golfers who are relatively new to the game and looking to expand their performance. Nate's main goal is to teach sound, simple fundamentals that lead to the development of a solid all-around game from tee to green. He also helps with the mental aspect and ways to keep thoughts under control. Nate played for Green River Community College and is excited about beginning his career in the PGA Northwest Section. Call 253.838.0354 for information.

David K Hobson – PGA Professional
David has 24 years of teaching experience.
